

WOMEN REJOICE OVER PROPERTY LAW VICTORY

Unanimous Vote in Senate Is Hailed As End of Ten-
Year Struggle.

By E. VAN LIEP RIBBIN.
TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, March 20.—Without a single dissenting vote the community property bill, which has received the united support of the organized women of the state, has passed the senate, thus crowning in years of effort with victory.
There seems no doubt that the unanimous action of the senate will be followed by a similar step in the assembly.

Mrs. Aaron Schless of Berkeley,
E. O. E. Chancy of Piedmont, representative of the women's legislative committee, and Mrs. Generale Allen of San Francisco, secretary of the San Francisco Civic Center, safed a company of the state's own leaders who were present on the floor of the senate when the vote was taken, and who say they regard "this 100 per cent victory as an indication of a change outlook on the part of the men of the state."

WHAT VICTORY MEANS.

Mrs. Allen said: "Though the community property bill has always had the whole-hearted support of some of the leading men of the state, it has taken ten years to convince others of the justice of the law's claim to some economic recognition of the value of the services in the home."

The victory of the senate presages a sure success in the assembly and married women will soon be relieved by law to dispose by will of one-half of the community property, if they desire to do so."

A delegation of women leaders from the state of Michigan, led by Mrs. Nelson Whittemore of Detroit, president of the Michigan women's party, were present when the roll was called on the measure and congratulated their California colleagues on their victory.

MOTOR CAR BILL STIRS DEBATE ON TRUCK DAMAGE

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, March 20.—The motor vehicle bill of Senator Arthur H.
Breed of Piedmont, president pro-tempore of the senate, was discussed last night at public hearing in the senate chamber.

It was stated during the hearing that the provisions of the bill for a gasoline tax and a flat $3 license fee will bring in revenue in 1924 $15,000,000, and that this amount will be increased to $17,700,000 in 1925. It is largely to these funds that the advocates of permanent highway construction are looking for funds to carry out their program.

The meeting was attended by good roads advocates from all parts of the state, by representatives of automobile associations and truck manufacturers and associations and others.

A hot debate developed on the subject of the damage done to highways by trucks, and Robert Marland of Oakland, representing the California Auto Trade Association, declared in response to statements that direct proof of the fact to which trucks had broken down the state's highways seemed to be lacking.

It was pointed out by several of those present that one-half of the revenue raised by the bill will go to the counties. Nicholas Bowden, city attorney of San Jose, made a plan that some of this revenue should also go to the cities.

Dr. Ernest Dozier of Redding declared that the purpose of a motor vehicle bill should be not only to raise revenues, but also to act as a "policing measure."

The bill will be taken up in executive committee session at an early date, it was announced.

for the purpose of hiding one's identity. The bill is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations, the members of which have a practice of hiding their identity, the author of the bill stated.

The Judiciary committee also discussed several bills sponsored by the Peace Officers' Association of the state providing heavier penalties for the use of automobiles and firearms in robberies or attempted robberies. A delegation of peace officers was present at the hearing headed by Chief Daniel O'Brien of San Francisco, who is president of the association.

Berkeley Harbor Bill to Be Offered

TREBUREAU, Sacramento, March 20.—As a result of a meeting held last Sunday at Berkeley, at which members of the legislature met with Mayor Louis Bartlett and City Attorney Lemuel Sanderson, it was agreed that a Berkeley harbor district enabling bill will be introduced by Assemblyman Chris Fox of Berkeley and Mrs. Anna L. Taylor.

In its general lines the bill will resemble that introduced by Senator Hurley for Oakland harbor, though it is not intended to provide for a bond issue. Assemblyman Fox declared that it is intended to interest capital in the matter of developing the Berkeley harbor, and that ways and means are being discussed in that direction.

Measure Aimed at Gummen Approved

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—(United Press.)—The assembly to-day sent back to the constitutional amendments committee the McPherson measure creating a water court of five members to adjust rights, claims and distribution of water in California streams.

The motion for reference developed a lively debate. Assemblyman Apuron voted to it only after he opposed a previous motion to send the amendment to the committee on irrigation.

who was learning to read out of a primer such as we supply for young children, because nothing else was available.

"I love my folly," was the sentence that big fellow was spelling out. We're preparing the right kinds of books for that work, but of course if we have to drop it the primes will be used, if anything is used at all."

Then Wood turned to the State School for the Deaf and Blind now under his direction with other educational institutions, and urged that adequate provision be made to care for the waiting lists both of deaf and blind that now exist. He also warned the legislators that the hospital building has been twice condemned, may collapse at any time and that a score of children are almost sure to perish if that happens.

"And when it does," he said, "I will thank my God that the responsibility rests, not with me, but with this legislature, and the preceding one, both of which have been told of this, and asked for funds to correct it."

Then he digressed a moment to lecture on the extravagance of the department. He said it was excessive to use automobiles.

He said about 35,000 adults were taking night school and special instruction and that many of these were seeking instruction in American Indian dialects. He said that special textbooks were in preparation for them and that the facilities in the past were not of a type to permit reduction.

SCHOOL FOR ADULTS.

"The instructor in charge of that work," he said, "went into one school and there found a great big adult Italian, about six feet two,
and weighing perhaps 240 pounds, and was not able to fit him into any of the classes."

TEACHERS' COLLEGES.

Turning then to the teachers' colleges, which he supervises, he said that if he was not allowed certain assistance in that work it could not be done, and that he would "just have to rubber stamp anything the schools sent in."

He read the lists of instructors allowed, and deplored the changes in the salary lists which, he said, would result in the loss of many instructors and consequent curtailment of the school work.

He showed that the average pay for instructors at San Jose—excluding a few of the more important posts—would be less than $2000 annually under the proposed budget, and said that teachers in the common schools drew $2000 and upwards. A steam engine costs higher than its source," he said, and urged that the result would be the loss of teachers teachers to become teachers in grade schools.

He also strongly defended the California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo, which Governor Rutherford had said in his budget message seemed to be out of joint with the educational system. Wood said in his opinion it filled a particular place, and ought to be kept going and permitted to enlarge.

"Let them give it enough to live,"
he cried, "or abolish it. We don't want the legislature to spend $120,000 to pension a few employees as old horses for the next two years." The amount allotted to the school by the board of control for the next biennium was $124,510.

Wood closed with an appeal for the legislature to remember that he spoke not for Will C. Wood, but for the boys and girls of California, the children who can not come to school in their own cities."

In answer to questions from the floor he said that if the appropriate committee on appropriations would name as announced, those schools would have to close their doors to senior college students, a function they have taken over in the past two years. This, he said, would mean that junior college students would have to be cared for by arrangements with high schools, which would largely increase the costs without helping the efficiency.

Hurley Domestic Court Plan Favored

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—The Senate Judiciary committee last night approved a bill by Hurley of Alameda creating a court of domestic relations by providing that in counties having more than three superior judges, one judge shall have charge of all divorce cases and other matters relative to domestic relations.

Another bill by Hurley prohibiting the operation of bucket shops, though it is not intended to provide for a bond issue. Assemblyman Fox declared that it is intended to interest capital in the matter of developing the Berkeley harbor, and that ways and means are being discussed in that direction.

BRANCH BANKING PLAN ADOPTED

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—A dispute between the two groups of bankers in California who were for and against the branch banking plan has been settled, their differences having been composed by their own efforts aided by those of J. Frank Johnson, the superintendent of state banks.

A bill offered in the assembly by C. C. Baker of Sausalito and which in its original form would practically have prohibited branch banking is going to be amended in committee today, by agreement of all concerned, so that it will regulate the branch banks in a way that local bankers believe will remove the difficulties of competing against the large institutions which have been instituting the branches.
So amended, it was planned, the bill will be reported out for passage.

The amendments do not in any way limit the number of branches that a bank may have, nor their relative location. They do, however, require that the reserve for each branch must be computed separately, instead of as an element of the reserve of the parent bank.

This will keep the reserve of the branch of the big city bank on a par with that of its small local neighbors across the street.

Another amendment will require that the deposits carried by each branch must be stated separately in its published statements of condition, instead of being lumped in the imposing total of the parent bank.

This, the bankers said, gives the little fellow a better chance.

The senate also approved a joint resolution by West to memorialize Congress to authorize appointment of war veterans to positions at the Soldiers' Homes at Yountville and Suisun.

BIG ACT AGAINST SCHOOL BONDS MADE BY CLUB

Central Oakland Improvement Society Use Vote As Lever to Close Patio.

If the board of education does not immediately appropriate $20,000 to close the open patio of Emerson school, the Central Oakland Improvement Club will come out against the proposed school bond issue, according to a written demand received by the board last night from Mrs. May Samuels, president.

The club, says Mrs. Samuels, complains that the open patio is drafty and cold. She demands immediate action.

"We've never been threatened in such a frank manner for some time," said Director George Hatch.

"That settles it," said Director Fred Campbell. "We'll have to close the schools to get money for the Emerson patio."

The communication was filed without further discussion.

A communication was received advising the board that Miss Mary Friedrich has been chosen by the Oakland Teachers Association, the Alameda County Women's Club and the Alameda County Educational Association to go to Sacramento and work "in the interest of teachers in matters educational." The educators agreed to compensate the board for any financial loss because of her absence from school work.

After some discussion, she was given an indefinite leave of action, commanding March 13.

B. E. Sanders, editor of the Technical Nite, a school paper at Technical High School, requested the board for financial aid in lieu of advertising which is barred from the school paper. The matter was referred to the superintendent of schools for a report.

Infallible Bible Held Bar to Growth

"I was compelled to choose between belief in the Bible and no Bible at all I would accept the latter alternative," decided Dr. Augustus T. Record, Unitarian church, Oakland, last night. "The doctrine of the infallibility of the Bible has not only one of the greatest mistakes in the history of the church but a positive hindrance to man's religious development. It has turned the thoughts of men to the past instead of to the future."

Dr. Record's subject had eight "The Bible and Its Critics." Speaking at the second of a series of three evening meetings which are being held in the Unitarian church.

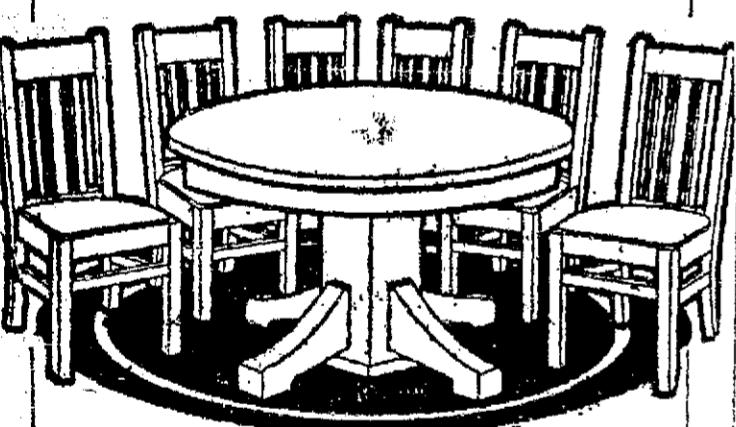

"Fundamentalists tell us that if we question, in any way, the infallibility of the Bible, we destroy religion. This is a very great error and the fundamental mistake of fundamentalism. Religion is not an outgrowth of the Bible, the Bible is the product of religion."

Delegations from the Unitarian churches of Berkeley and Alameda will visit the Mission tonight when Dr. William L. Sullivan of New York will speak on the subject "Can we know and commune with God."

MERCHANTS BACK SHRINER CIRCUS

Oakland merchants will cooperate with the Oakland Shriners in raising a fund to make the trip of the Oakland Shrine delegation to Washington this summer an Oakland advertising expedition by decorating their windows in honor of the Shrine circus, according to announcements made yesterday. The circus will start Monday, April 2, and the week previous will be given over to a window-dressing contest. A silver loving cup is offered for the most attractive window carrying either a circus or a Shrine atmosphere.

In the meantime W. F. Hamilton, director of the circus, announced that rapid progress has been made toward the show. The program calls for a big circus program, pageantry, a queen contest and a style show. The latter event will provide an exposition of the latest styles in Alameda county merchandise and products.

The proceeds from the circus will be used to finance the trip of the Oakland Shriners to Washington and to provide them with Oakland literature. It is the plan of the Oakland Shriners to furnish a personal "tie-up" with the California advertising campaign in the East in the pilgrimage of their delegation to Washington.

A special train will be utilized with a special baggage car filled with Oakland literature. This will be distributed en route and whenever the occasion offers lectures will be given on Oakland and Alameda county.

Among the latest attractions signed by Hamilton for the show are End Dawn, a dancer; Tony, the clown, and his assistants; the Bennett Sisters, the Springtime Dancers and a Bathing Suit Revue.

S. F. ACTRESS IS MENTIONED IN TELLEGREN SUIT

Geraldine Farrar's Charges of Illicit Loves Brings No Reply From Lou.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEAVES WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, March 19.—An attitude of general indifference was displayed today by Arthur E. Schwartz, attorney for Lou Tellegen, toward the testimony introduced against his client yesterday by witnesses for Geraldine Farrar, former opera diva, who is suing the actor for divorce.

While the actor, who is on a two-month tour, asserted he did not intend to defend himself against the charges brought against him, his attorney said the outcome of Miss Farrar's action would determine what Tellegen will do about the counter suit for a separation he has brought against his wife.

Testimony relating details of relations alleged between Tellegen and two actresses, one Miss Lorna Ambler, an Australian actress, and the other an American, "Miss L.", was given yesterday before Referee Thomas B. Mahony. The name of a third, described as Bessie Clifford, of San Francisco, was brought against the original record but no testimony was adduced against her yesterday.

The most sensational of the charges concerned "Miss L.", an actress who was in the cast of the play in which Tellegen was a star in 1921.

With yesterday's testimony, Miss Farrar closed her case. The referee ordered a postponement in order to give Tellegen's counsel an opportunity to make an entry for the record.

NEW YORK, March 19.—(By International News Service)—An early decision in the famous divorce suit brought by Geraldine Farrar against Lou Tellegen is expected, following the announcement today of Arthur G. Schwartz, counsel for the actor, that Tellegen had decided not to contest the action of the prima donna. Miss Farrar's lawyer announced at the hearing yesterday that all of her testimony had been offered.

The next hearing will be Friday, when it is expected that counsel for Tellegen will declare he has no defense to make and Referee Thomas Mahoney will take the case under advisement to make a recommendation to the court.

Gems, Laces Left Son to Be Used As Wedding Gift

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—One of the most picturesque wills of recent date in the Superior Court has been filed by Bruce Cornwall, executor of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Sadie D. Cornwall, who died February 19. The will was executed nearly 19 years ago by Mrs. Cornwall, the widow of Elmer B. Cornwall, and reads in part as follows:

"I bequeath to my son, Bruce Cornwall, whatever real estate, furniture or other possessions I may have with the hope that he may keep a home and be kind to his kindred if they need assistance. I believe his wife will be a worthy one, and I wish Bruce to have my laces, gems and jewels and give them to her with my love on the succeeding anniversary of my birthday, and to have them passed on to their children with the wish that they may live with grace and dignity and judgment. With love for my son, Bruce, who has ever been a blessing, I direct that he be appointed executor to serve without bonds."

The collision occurred at a point about 200 yards below the plant of the Sawyer Tanning Company. Pilot Lahmeyer, not believing any damage had been done, continued upstream. After he had proceeded about 300 yards, water poured through a hole near the bow on the port side. The bow of the Neptune, submerged and as it became fast in the mud, the stern of the craft swung around, and with the bow pointing down stream, settled on the bottom of the river.

Lahmeyer stated that the lights of the dredger were burning and were properly arranged. The lights indicated that the west side of the dredger was clear. Lahmeyer, for some reason, steered the Neptune to pass the dredger on the east side.

OLAF TVEITMOE, LABOR LEADER OF STATE, DIES

Former Secretary California Building Trades Council Succumbs.

Olaf Tveitmoe, former secretary of the California State Building Trades Council, and editor of "Organized Labor," died at his home in Santa Cruz last night after a protracted illness. Tveitmoe was a native of Norway. He retired about five years ago and has made his home in Santa Cruz since. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Tveitmoe was one of the forty persons alleged to have conspired to transport explosives on passenger trains and was tried on conspiracy charges in the United States District Court at Indianapolis in 1912. In January, 1914, Tveitmoe and 27 others, after conviction on the charges, were sentenced to serve six years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

He was paroled and, shortly afterward, in ruling on his appeal for a new trial, the higher court held that the evidence against him was insufficient for conviction. Retrial was granted and the case against him was dropped.

Death was the result of a five year's illness from a paralytic stroke. At the State Building Trades convention one year ago, Tveitmoe gave up the secretaryship when P. H. McCarthy, with whom he had been closely associated for nearly a quarter of a century, retired from the presidency.

Tveitmoe had a stormy career. He was educated in both Europe and America and came into prominence here in connection with several strikes. He was elected, on the labor ticket, a supervisor of San Francisco, serving in that capacity at the time of the fire in 1906, and one year after. At this time he was mentioned for the mayoralty.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

OAKLANDER'S SISTER DIES. CHICAGO, March 20.—Mrs. Neil Satterlee, who before her marriage was Camilla Frances Hinman of Avoca, Wis., died at her home here last night. Girl Victim of Auto Accident Improving

Action of Miss Ida May Alexander of Hughson, Junior college student, who has been unconscious since an auto accident Friday night, is improving, doctors said today. She has moments of consciousness and swallows some food, they said.

Her skull was fractured when the machine in which she rode with James Corson turned over. Corson's ankle was broken. They were trying to pass another car going in the same direction.

Suit Dismissed As Officers Resign

SANTA ROSA, March 20.—The suit filed in Superior court here several months ago against G. H. Haskell, general manager, and the board of directors of the Petaluma Co-operative Mercantile company by stockholders, charging misuse of funds, was dismissed yesterday after it was announced the accused officers had resigned. A meeting of stockholders was called for March 30 at Petaluma to elect a general manager and directors.

Holiday HappeningsWomen of Berkeley to Study Ballot

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Berkeley women will not be ignorant of the machinery of the new preferential ballot which will be introduced at the coming city election in the college town. They have set themselves to study the system.

Berkeley League of Women Voters has arranged for instruction and demonstration in the use of the new ballot at the regular meeting in Unity Hall on Thursday afternoon. City Attorney L. D. Sanderson will present the educational talk. He will also review the merits of the proposed Public Utility District.

The Community Chest which is being introduced in Berkeley will be outlined by Dr. Jessica Peixotto, University of California.

Beginning in April, the fortnightly programs of the league will be held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month in place of the present Thursday meetings.

Mrs. H. N. Herrick is president of the center.

Protest against the plan which has been suggested for combining under the federal government the departments of education, public health and child welfare has been offered by the executive board of California League of Women Voters, northern section. The leaders have given re-endorsement to the Sterling-Towner bill which would create a department of education presided over by a secretary who shall be seated in the president's cabinet.

The National League of Women Voters is considering a plan which, if adopted, will limit its activities to efficiency in government. The so-called "Pennsylvania Plan" will be voted upon at the annual convention in Des Moines, Iowa. Delegates from California will be called together before they leave to listen to the opinion of the local centers, governing then vote on the issue thereby. Centers have been requested to present the question before their memberships for definite action.

The second birthday party of the San Jose Business and Professional Women's club will occur on Monday, March 26. A dinner at Hotel Vendome is to mark the celebration. A special invitation has been extended to the members of the Oakland club to join in the festivities. Several motor parties will be made up for the evening.

"Our Names, Their Influence Upon Character and Temperament" is the subject for a talk which will be given by Miss Flora Madelle Hartman, metaphysician, on Thursday at 8 p. m. in the directors room of the Commercial and Trust Savings Bank, 1560 Broadway.

"Things You Should Know About Making Your Will" will be told by Albert E. Carter at the same hour on Tuesday, March 27, rectly toward daily living is an

Carlos G. White will discuss "The Trustee—What and Why."

"Budgets—Personal and Household," was the subject for a practical talk by Mrs. Edward Lester Knight of San Francisco today.

CRAFTER MUTHAI UNDERSTANDING URGED BY MOORE

All Race, Creeds and Fraternities Asked to See Good in Each Other.

A plea for greater mutual understanding between different races, creeds and fraternal organizations was made by Lawrence Moore, editor of the weekly luncheon of the Oakland Sequoia Club at the Sequoia Cafe yesterday.

"Each race, creed and fraternity should recognize that every other race, creed and fraternity has something to contribute to the general welfare of humanity, and should make if its business to find out what this is," Moore told the Sequoia members. "The points on which they agree, and it is the latter, rather than the former, that should be emphasized."

"There is no good to be gained in stirring up of racial differences, and suspicions, and hatreds, such as is being done by various widespread agencies in this and in other countries," Moore declared. "All that such a course can inevitably lead to is fighting.

DEPEND ON EACH OTHER.

"The thing to be recognized is that in our present state of civilization, all persons are more or less dependent upon all other persons. There is no such thing as a self-made man, nor an independent man. Each of us is the product of all the men he has met and known, whether friends or enemies, plus his own inward sense of right and wrong. The real measure of a man is the degree to which he is related fundamentally to other men. The greatness of Roosevelt, for instance, consisted in the fact that he was related in some way to all of us, and that we were made to feel that. There are no such things as natural enemies among men, and enmities arise only through the failure of men to become of the fundamental ties that bind all men together regardless of race, creed or other affiliations."

The fact that the welfare of all men is so bound up together, Moore said, is one of the strongest reasons for the support of all community activities, such as the Community Chest and the Welfare League.

WOULD ERADICATE VICE.

Also it is to the interest of all men to help eradicate all antisocial things. Moore said, such as vice conditions, even though many men do not feel themselves particularly affected by them.

"These cannot affect one part of society without affecting all," he said.

Moore, who is president of the organization that is to hold Alameda County Music Week from May 6 to May 12, said that one of its principal benefits is that it brings men together spiritually as nothing else does.

"It is only through music," he said, "that men speak their deepest and most sacred thoughts, and give full vent to their finer feelings."

"For Sale" Signs May Stay in Place

ALAMEDA, March 20.—The advisability of ad signs being dispensed with in connection with the real estate business in this city will come up for open discussion at the semi-monthly meeting of the Alameda Real Estate Board next Thursday, following a dinner to be held in a local street cafe arranged by Frank Hall, president.

That the matter has been taken under advisement several times, and did not meet with the approval of the board at large was pointed out by Hall. He declares the Alameda real estate men feel the matter has several angles and have felt the pros equalled the cons in the issue.

Residents of Alameda, rather prefers having signs placed on property which is listed for sale or for rent, declares one of the real estate men of the city.

MAGNESE BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

War Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants.

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, bloatness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful stomach tonics, medicines and similar concoctions. Instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a tea

Magnesia. In a little water after meals with the result, their health is soon restored, troubles disappear, and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisulfated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful medicine, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermenting, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to use Bisulfated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

California women are particularly fortunate, according to the professor's report.

Oakland Tribune

MADAME TALBOT WILL SING AGAIN ON KLX TONIGHT

Popular Artist Will Give the Second of Series of Exclusive Tribune Concerts.

Those of The TRIBUNE'S radio audience who have requested a second concert by Mme. Dorothy Raegeen Talbot, coloratura soprano, from Radio KLX are advised to listen in tonight between 8 and 9 o'clock on 360 meters. Mme. Talbot, the most popular artist on the radio carrier wave, will sing again this evening.

This will be Mme. Talbot's second concert from The TRIBUNE'S radiophone station in a series of exclusive musical broadcasts by KLX. She will be assisted tonight by Claire C. Darrimon, pianist, who is regarded by Mme. Talbot as one of the best accompanists in the west.

The assertion that Mme. Talbot is the most popular artist on the radio wave is not an idle one. The concert several weeks ago brought more laudatory communications than any one artist singing from KLX ever has received. This popular singer was "discovered" by Emma Calvé, world famous diva. Her voice was brought to perfection by Jean de Reszke, famous Polish master.

A notable appearance and one which gave Mme. Talbot an excellent opportunity to display her talent was as Susanna, the leading role of Mozart's brilliant opera "The Marriage of Figaro," at the Greek Theater. She will sing a part from "The Marriage of Figaro" this evening. The entire program will be found under the "KLX" schedule.

15 Minutes of Radio

LESSON NO. 239.

SELECTIVITY IN RADIO

The inauguration, by the Department of Commerce, of Class "B" broadcasting stations which transmit in a wave length of 400 meters, has emphasized very forcibly to the radio enthusiast two important requirements for the satisfactory reception of broadcast signals. First, the receiving system should function with a high degree of selectivity and second, proper care should be utilized in the manipulation of the apparatus.

Class "A" broadcasting stations radiate signals on a wave length of 360 meters, this wave length differing by 40 meters and a frequency of about 52,000 cycles per second from the 400 meter wave length of the Class "B" stations. If the receiving station is located in close proximity to stations broadcasting simultaneously on both these prescribed wave lengths, considerable interference will result unless the receiving system is sufficiently selective and the component parts operated with proper skill to eliminate signals from an unwanted station differing in wave length transmission by 40 meters.

Following is the daily except Sunday radio broadcasting program for both inland and San Francisco bay stations, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning and terminating at 7:30 in the evening. For the evening program, which changes daily, see that under "This Evening." All stations are broadcasting on 360 meters, except where designated.

9 to 10 a. m.—Examiner (KUO), 10 to 11:30 a. m.—Telegraph Hill (KFDR) on 400 meters.

11:30 to 1 p. m.—Warner Bros. (KLS).

"Since the beginning of time," says Professor Vanier, "we have been confronted with the problem of getting energy to do the dirty work. By women and slaves, the oppressed and ignorant classes, and by fuel, has the process been carried on."

But the modern home, says Vanier, has been transformed—and with it woman—by the introduction of electricity. He claims "electricity accomplished work which would have required five servants."

California women are particularly fortunate, according to the professor's report.

"For," he says, "along the line of hydro-electric power, California leads the field."

AROUND-WORLD AIR MAIL FLIGHT PLANNED BY ARMY

Studies of Possible Routes
Show Trip Feasible; One
Ship, at Least, Capable.

By HARRY D. ROGERS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—An around-the-world airplane flight is under consideration by the army air service it was learned officially today. Studies of possible routes already have been made and though still incomplete these planes have progressed far enough to convince officials the proposed flight is entirely feasible. The army air service also has at least one "ship" which veteran pilots believe is capable of making the flight.

The main route for the flight already has been determined upon and for certain laps of the prospective trip alternative routes have been selected. A solution has been found, officials believe, for the problem of the Pacific, hitherto regarded as presenting insurmountable difficulties in the present stage of aircraft development.

WOULD CROSS SIBERIA

No attempt will be made to fly directly across the Pacific, officials say, but the plane would cross to Siberia from the Aleutian Islands, off the coast of Alaska.

Starting at Bellingham, the proposed route passes through the national capital to Detroit, then across a portion of Canada to Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

A comparatively short flight across the Bering Sea would bring the plane to Kamchatka, and another of about the same duration across the Sea of Okhotsk would bring it to Vladivostok.

From the Siberian capital the route lies along the China coast to Singapore, across the Bay of Bengal and the Dekhan of India to Bombay. From Bombay the route would follow the course already laid out by British flyers across Mesopotamia, up the Mediterranean to Marseilles, Paris and London.

MUST PROVIDE STATIONS

Before the world flight can be attempted it will be necessary, of course, to provide oil, gas and repair stations at fixed intervals along the proposed route, and arrangements will have to be made with the governments of the various territories to be traversed for permission to land where necessary.

Army flyers believe the T-2, the remodeled thick wing monoplane in which Lieutenants Kelley and MacReady of the air service recently set new records, will be suitable for the flight around the world.

MAN KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Frank Fleming, a carpenter living at 1221 High street, Alameda, died at the emergency hospital today from injuries received when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Southern Pacific train at High street.

An investigation is being made by the coroner. According to the police reports, Fleming was driving north on High street and his machine was struck by westbound train No. 91, in charge of Engineer George Carpenter and Conductor J. F. Fassett.

The crash was heard in a nearby factory and a score of men rushed to Fleming's aid. He was taken from beneath the wreckage of his automobile and rushed to the hospital. His wife survives him.

Nerves On Fire From Neuritis

Thousands of people afflicted with neuritis take medicine for rheumatism and wonder why they don't get well. Such people do not know that even a slight attack of rheumatism may develop into a severe case of neuritis or "nerve inflammation," which calls for different treatment.

Neuritis is often accompanied by a feeling as if the nerves were on fire, especially in the muscles, stiffness in the joints or a tingling sensation in the hands or feet. Always there is pain—sharp, agonizing pain—which may hurt constantly or only at intervals.

Some Neuritis tablets will quickly soothe the throbbing, aching nerves and gradually assist in removing inflammation and soreness. Guaranteed harmless. Used and endorsed by physicians. Price $1. At Boettcher & Runyon Co., Manufacturers, 425 14th St., Oakland; 104 Powell St., San Francisco.

How to Spend Today?

Conducted by the Public Health Center of Alameda County

One by one the epidemic diseases that periodically decimated the country in the past are being vanquished and chained to the chariot wheel of public health. Plague, small pox, typhoid and malaria are fast disappearing. Their prevalence in a community now indicates ignorance, indifference, or graft, or all three. While the morbidity and mortality from almost every disease is decreasing, nervous and mental disease shows a rapid and steady increase. In California, the number of patients in the state hospitals for the insane has increased, in proportion to the population, 35 per cent in ten years.

The need for some instruction on the hygiene of the mind is shown by the present day demand for lectures and literature on the subject of psychology, normal and abnormal. The old time family physician and the clergyman who were the physical, mental, moral and spiritual advisers of the individual and the family, are gone forever. The modern physician and clergyman relegates this function to the up-to-date, business-like social worker.

This instinctive desire and need for mental and spiritual guidance has been seized upon and capitalized by the quack physical disorder or disease specialists, a psychoneurosis or some manifestation of hysteria which masquerades in a thousand different forms; or third, an attack of mental disease.

This article is the second in a series of mental problems.

Next will appear one week from today.

It is 12,000 miles from England to Australia.

CHANGE LINE, BUT

Pair of Comedians Gain in Effectiveness As Drama Succeeds Comedy.

By WOOD SOANES.

C. William Kohl and Max Dill have obtained their final decree of theatrical divorce from the rough and tumble musical comedy and have taken unto themselves a new life partner in the person of legitimate drama.

In "Now and Then," presented at the Auditorium theater last night, the two comedians are to be seen as dramatic artists, and if the reception accorded the piece written for them by Aaron Hoffman can be taken as a barometer their new choice is a popular one.

"Now and Then" deals with the prohibition question in a manner that is nothing if not frank. It presents both sides of the question and was received with acclaim by last night's patrons who seemed to enjoy the wet argument most of all and laughed and applauded uproariously.

The title of the new play conjures up memories of more than the author planned, however, for the reminiscence of thegoers must needs recall as the comedy proceeds the good old days when Kohl and Dill were musical comedians. Gone are the myriad chorus girls; gone the prima donnas, soubrettes and dancers; gone the gallantry gods of Pop Fischer's zone even is that time honored custom of Kohl kicking the padded stomach of his ox-eyed partner to emphasize a point.

EFFECTIVENESS GAINS.
All that remains is the comedy twain and the passing years find them more effective than ever in the art of keeping an audience wavering between tears of laughter and tears of momentary sadness. Pathos, sentiment, romance, hokum—all come in for deft handling at the hands of the erstwhile Weber and Fields of the Pacific Coast.

In "Now and Then" one finds the partners in the saloon business. It is a thriving business but on the eve of America's participation in the war, Dominick (Kohl) decides to join hands with the Anti-Saloon league and sever his connections of fifteen years' standing to throw his energies to the dry forces, to the unutterable disgust of his polygamous partner.

The second scene of the first act finds Albert (Dill) with a chosen few awaiting disconsolately the tolling of the 12 o'clock bell and the inevitable arrival of the coach of Volstead. Here's a scene as pathetic as the passing of Camille, the departure of Little Eva, the death of the heroine of East Lynne.

The second act finds a decided change. Five years have passed and the time is the present with Albert a most successful bootlegger and his wife a social butterfly. In this act all of the loose threads are cleverly gathered together by the dramatist's hand and many things happen that would be spoiled in the telling. It is an act that moves swiftly and certainly to a romantic yet comic ending.

LOCAL ACTOR SCORES.
Although Kohl and Dill dominate the play and have the pronouncing of the host of bright and philosophic lines that dot the pages of the dramatist's manuscript, "Now and Then" is dull and thin at times and would be unbearable were it not for a fine performance given by John Fee, a former dramatic stock actor here.

As "Bum," the swamper in the saloon operated by Dominick and Albert, Fee gave a performance that must be written down in the book of exceptional dramatic天才. He was the "graduate of five colleges" who had reached the lowest rung on the ladder and his work was superb.

It was a pity that the author failed to write him into the second act as an impossible and shifted bit of stage mechanism. Other than the three with Julia Blane, ever capable, as the German housewife, and May Cloy, pretty and lovable as the romantic and loyal daughter, the playing was inconsequential. Frank Wallace and Charles Vyle stood out for a moment or two in the first act but the other performances were of a low and amateurish order. "Now and Then" is presented in two scenes as true to life as they are models of stagecraft.

Steamer Proves Satisfactory to Experts.

Given the most strenuous kind of dock test at the San Pedro yards, where she was built, the new Key System ferry Hayward yesterday was pronounced perfect in every detail of construction by inspecting experts and will begin her trip up here for transbay service March 28, arriving two days later; it was announced today by W. E. Alberger, general manager of the Key System.

The dock trial of the Hayward was satisfactory in every way and was made under the supervision of John B. Matthews, designer of the Hayward and her sister ship, the San Leandro; Captain J. E. Dorry, U. S. naval engineer, and H. P. Bell, electrical engineer for the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. The Hayward will make her way up the coast under her own power.

Alberger also stated yesterday that work has been started on the reconstruction of company tracks along Grove street in Berkeley, between Berkeley way and The Alameda. This improvement of the roadbed of the Northbrae and Thousand Oaks lines will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The traction company is now putting in heavy manganese steel crossings at the intersection of Fifty-fifth street and Telegraph avenue in Oakland and is preparing to reconstruct about a mile of tracking along Telegraph between Fifty-second street and the Berkeley line. This work contemplates considerable new paving in addition to the relaying of tracks and will cost $120,000.

CHORUS NUMBERS ARE FEATURE OF 'HAVE A HEART'

Russell Production at Century Succeeds Well With Its Fun Making.

Jack Russell, principal comedian at the Century theater, held a joint celebration of St. Patrick's Day and his own birthday at the opening of this week's offering "Have a Heart," in which he played a country justice of the peace with success, and was presented with a basket of flowers.

"Have a Heart" is one of those musical comedies depending on "bits" rather than sustained plot, and as such it succeeds well, for the house at the opening night laughed almost incessantly. Russell was assisted in the fun-making by Walter Spencer, Billy Devore, Jackie Brunes, Arthur Van Slyke, Florence Spurrier, Ruby Lang and Evelyn DuBresne.

The story revolves around the country justice who handles the law from a rather personal point of view. Directly after he opens his office with his hands extremely decorated of becoming man and wife. Investigation shows that the girl is the daughter of the judge's ancient enemy. It also develops that this enemy is en route to the judge's office in search for the slopes.

How the justice handles the case and manages to save himself from annihilation at the hands of the irate Southerner, capably played by Van Slyke, and how he meets out justice to a "heathen Chinee" excellently impersonated by Billy De Vore, is told in the balance of the sketch, in which, as might be expected, all ends happily.

In addition to the comedy there is noted for its excellent chorus numbers and the colorful costuming. The musical program is up to standard with Ora Knight and Russell winning many encores with "Ain't Love a Wonderful Thing?" and the Misses Brunes and Lang taking the vocal honors about even with "Dearest" and "Dear Little Boy or Mine," respectively.

The Century Four once more introduced vulgarity into some of their lyrics and did a painful count number. Despite the quartet's work the show was a hit.—W. S.

Long Drawn Out Tax Case Again Heard

An important case regarding taxes on corporation property is being heard today by Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell. The Great Western Power company is suing the city of Oakland for the return of $122,000 tax paid in 1920 on a steam heating plant in the Hotel St. Mark. The company claims that in 1920 both the state and the city taxed the company for the plant.

Judge Kinsell two years ago sustained a demurrer to the complaint and an appeal was taken. The Appellate court sustained the decision but the Supreme Court reversed the lower courts and sent the case back for retrial. Should the city win it will collect taxes from the company for the past two years on the property involved in the suit.

PASTOR GIVEN CALL

LOS GATOS, March 20.—Rev. H. C. Ledyard has been extended a call to take the pulpit of the Los Gatos Fellowship church, as the result of a meeting held Sunday morning. The vote for Rev. Ledyard was practically unanimous.

CURTAINAILS Wood Soanes

A interesting situation, if a complicating one, has arisen in connection with the proposed National Theater promised by August Thomas, czar of theatrical affairs.

Everyone who has the interests of the play at heart is of course interested in anything that will tend towards its uplift and betterment.

The Little Theater has done its bit, but a National Theater would be in a position to accomplish a much greater good because it would have that which the Little Theater lacked—money.

But there is something to be taken into consideration with this National Theater movement, something to be mulled over in the mind before hearty support is given the project just what does it mean after all?

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Charles Klein's "The Cipher Code" is at the Alcazar theater with Ernest Hastings featured.

Does the inauguration of a National Theater mean that the public is to be assured the presentation each season of plays such as "Lillom," "He Who Gets Slapped," "R. U. R." "Six Characters in Search of An Author," and others of that caliber?

Or does it mean simply another combine of theatrical forces designed to establish a mammoth theatrical trust for the purpose of dictating things theatrical and doing in a word what it jolly well pleases?

On the heels of the announcement of the National Theater plans come the news of a huge theatrical merger, a combination of leading producers with a capitalization of one hundred million dollars and a stock selling scheme. Of course this would insure better financial conditions to those participating in the merger, it would insure more profitable working conditions for the actor, but would it insure the betterment of the theater?

Perhaps it would, but with the independent producers frozen out in the merger and the destinies of the theater in the hands of inarticulate business men it would appear that the bedroom lair would have the upper hand with the mystery melodrama crowding it for hours.

Singularly, the names of the men heading the list of the National Theater project are the same as those directing the financing of the merger.

It begins to look as if the law would have to struggle along without the ministrations of William Bailey who, it will be recalled, was a graduate from the University of California with a law degree but somehow or other has been sidetracked into the dramatic world where he gives promise of being more or less of an important figure.

Funeral for Suisun Man Held by MasonsSailors Entertain Friends at Dance

SUISUN, March 20.—The funeral of Samuel Robert Barnett was held yesterday morning in the Odd Fellows' hall under the auspices of the Masonic lodge. Barnett, for many years past owner of the Solano County Courier, had been suffering for the past several years from an attack of apoplexy, which had confined him to his bed for the past several months.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mae Barnett, a son, Newell, of Suisun, and two brothers and two sisters in Kentucky. He was a native of Kentucky, aged 52 years and a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Here, There and Everywhere in the East Bay

About the Size of It.
A Tennessee man has brought suit against the House of David. An Oakland wit wants to know if that isn't case of bearding the leaders in their den.

Three Noiseless Cheers.
The day when noiseless streetcars become the noiseless craze, we'll say, upon our fingers: "All hail the Noiseless Age!"

Too Noiseless.
And now there's an agitation on for noiseless streetcars. A local man says the trouble with noiseless street cars is that they can sneak up behind you and hit you when you're not looking.

Everybody's Digging.
The spade is coming into its own. They dug up King Tut in Egypt, prehistoric skull in South America, the tusks of Hannibal's elephants in Carthage, and now the householders of the East Bay are making their annual onslaught upon the garden plot.

The Last Straw.
A man who drank too much beer became a victim of the hallucination that his back was broken. A local wit says that was the straw that broke the Prohibition camel's back.

I GET AWAY WITH IT TOO DON'T I?
Ther's quacks among th' beauty doctors, too, judgin' by some of th' patients we meet. "Ever' time I git all ready t' shoot him I think o' th' muzz an' ev'thing," said Mrs. Al Moppo's d'ay, while talkin' about what might have been.

Paris fashion dictators decree that summer dresses will be furless. One of the staff comedians wonders, in this connection, "how fur this thing will go?"

What Does Your Wife Do?
An East Bay mechanic wants to know how streetcars are to be made noiseless. Perhaps they'll be equipped with rubber tires.

MAW SAID I CAME FROM HEAVEN AN' POP SAYS IF I DID IT MUST BE AWFUL QUIET UP THERE NOW
The Last Hope.
Musical burglars are reported operating in the Bay district. An Oakland man, whose next door neighbor's daughter takes piano lessons, says he hopes they visit his neighborhood.

A burglar stole a saxophone which was most jazzy as to tone. But did he get arrested? Nay. He played and scared the cops away!

BOYS VISIT PRISON.
CAMPBELL, March 20.—Several Campbell boys were in the party of Santa Clara City Y. M. C. A. boys taken through San Quentin penitentiary last Thursday by County Boys' Secretary Harold V. Lucas.

PETALUMA NOTES
PETALUMA, March 20.—Grading has been started on the site to be occupied by the new clubhouse of the Petaluma Golf and Country Club. The house, which will cost $25,000, will be erected at the terminus of a road recently completed to the top of May's Hill. The site is ideal and commands a wonderful view of the valley, Sonoma mountain and the coast range. Captain May, who was in command of one of the boats plying between here and San Francisco in the early days, was attracted to this spot which he purchased and on which he built a cabin and spent his holidays.

Dr. S. Z. Peoples of this city has been elected permanent chairman of the newly organized board of directors of the Sonoma County Public Health Association. Within short time he will call a meeting of the twenty-one members of the board to discuss the policies and activities of the association under the reorganization.

Joe Katen, who was arrested Friday for transporting liquor, appeared before Judge Plank Saturday and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to 70 days in the county jail to which he was immediately removed after the trial.

A meeting of the secretaries of the various chambers of commerce of Sonoma county is to be held at Sebastopol Thursday, March 22, at the headquarters of Sebastopol organization. Matters of interest to the county as a whole will be taken up, among which will be the issuing of a county chamber of commerce bulletin and the organization of an association of county secretaries.

SUPREME JUDGE DEDICATES NEW SHASTA SCHOOL

Students of Four Grammar Districts Are Housed by $40,000 Building.

CHICO, March 20.—Judge William Waste, of the California Supreme court, was the principal speaker at the dedication exercises held at the Shasta Union school Sunday afternoon. The building has just been completed at a cost of $40,000 and is large enough to house the students from the school districts of Walnut Creek, Webster, Antelope and Clayton.

Judge Waste was a resident of Webster school district in his youth, and his first schooling was taken at the old Webster school on the site of which the new building has been erected.

The new structure is of concrete, of old Spanish architecture, and in its setting back from the highway in a grove of trees, is one of the beauty spots of the territory surrounding Chico.

The board of trustees who planned the structure and worked for its completion consisted of Frank R. Parker, president; Charles Hopkins, clerk; Mrs. Nellie Churchill, Uhl Garner and Shirley C. Carmack.

Four teachers are required to take care of the fifty-five students who attend the school, and four buses transport the students to and from school.

Besides the address given by Judge Waste, short talks were given by Irving Pasmore, county superintendent of schools, and C. M. Osenbaugh, president of the Chico State Teachers' College.

Lives Endangered as Stage Catches Fire

PINOLE, March 20.—Lives of a score of persons were endangered removed without being burned.

The Pinole fire department was called out and saved the bus from total destruction.

The fire broke out while the bus was taking on and discharging passengers on Main Street, and it was moving when it is considered certain fatalities would have resulted.

The fire burned fiercely in the upholstery of the car, and practically the entire body was destroyed.

San Leandro Trustees Order
Attorney to Draft Act for That Purpose.

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—Adoption of formal intentions to bring about an ordinance by which the city would receive any fines paid in for violation of the present prohibition law, was effected at a meeting of the board of trustees here last night. The proposal was introduced by Edwin Duck, board member and police commissioner, and was unanimously accepted. City Attorney J. Allison Bruner was instructed to draw up the ordinance.

Deferred action on the reading of a communication from Leon E. Gray, city attorney for Oakland, explaining the reasons why a precinct will not be given San Leandro for voting in election of school board trustees, was ordered. It was stated by Bruner that if San Leandro pressed the matter, the vote could be secured. According to Mayor Allen E. Pelton, the matter will be placed on the shelf until temporary.

Plans for the repairing and widening of the San Leandro bridge were presented for consideration by R. H. Goodwin, city engineer, and accepted. The plans will be turned over to the board of supervisors of the county preparatory to the construction program.

Report of the city treasurer showed $24,151 on hand in the treasury. Communications from both E. H. Christian and Frank M. Carr, assemblyman, were read in which it was stated they would give consideration to the suggestions from the board that they champion the proposed changes in the Motor Vehicle Act.

GIRL OF 4 RUN DOWN BY CAR

Crushed beneath the wheels of a street car when she ran out to the car tracks to get a ball. Mildred Moniz, 4-year-old daughter of Marion Moniz, 2025 Twenty-fifth avenue, was almost instantly killed yesterday at East Sixteenth street and Twentieth avenue.

A company of firemen from a nearby engine house tried vainly to lift the car from the body of the child in time to save her life. The girl had wandered several blocks from her home in her play. Two other girls were passing in opposite direction when she dashed between them to get her ball. Before M. A. Marsella, motorman, could apply the brakes she was under the wheels.

When the boy was removed, Manual Madearts of Truck Company No 2 recognized it as that of his godchild, Marion Moniz, the child's father, is said to manufacture.

HE DARKENED HIS

GOLDEN HAIR

Tells How He Did It

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbe Compound, and 1/4 ounce of glycerine."

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

Candidates Must File By March 29

March 29 is the last day upon which anyone can file as a candidate for the position of director of the Public Utilities District, County Clerk Gross announced today. Election of directors will be held May 8 in conjunction with the general election.

Five directors are to be elected at large, but candidates must file from the ward in which they live. The proposed utility district has been divided into five wards of equal population. A director is to be elected for each ward, but voted on at large.

These directors will have the power to guide the destinies of the public utility district, and in particular to select the sources from which to obtain the water supply for the utility district. As formed the district will include the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, Emeryville, San Leandro, Albany, Richmond and El Cerrito.

Proprietor Arrested On Liquor Charge

GONZALEZ, March 20.—A Bartolo was arrested here Saturday night by J. V. Salinas, officer. When one of the squids went into Bartolo's saloon and asked for "two Oysters," he serving him at the oysters followed in. A cotton jug nearly full was found behind the counter. This is Bartolo's third arrest on liquor charges.

OSTER RADICAL 21 YEARS, SHOWS TRIAL EVIDENCE

Judges Mark Court Session in Case of Alleged Communist.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The pensionnaire which William Z. Foster is charged with filling out when he arrived at the communist national convention held in the midwest near here last August, was introduced in evidence today in the State in Foster's trial for criminal syndicalism.

The questionnaire read to the jury says that "Borden," the name Foster used at the convention according to Francis Morrow, State friend had been "active in the revolutionary movement for 21 years."

"Borden" also wrote in answer questions on the sheet that he as a paid employee of the communist party, with the title of industrial organizer; that he had been a member of the I. W. W., Socialist party and several labor unions; had been arrested frequently, and had participated in strikes.

Morrow, who as "K-97," a department of justice agent, attended a convention as a delegate from Philadelphia and Camden districts, testified today to identify some of the papers seized when federal agents raided the meeting.

CLASHES FREQUENT.

The morning session was marked by frequent clashes and the exchange of personalities between radical P. Walsh, chief of counsel for Foster, and O. L. Smith, assistant attorney-general of Michigan.

A bitter fight by the defense yesterday and today to keep the communist program and constitution of the evidence failed when Judge White ruled today it could read to the jury.

"By the use of force," the program states, "the proletarian destroys the machinery of the bourgeois state and establishes the proletarian dictatorship based on power." The proletarian revolution is a long process. It begins with the destruction of the capitalist state and the establishment of the dictatorship. It ends with the complete transformation of the capitalist system in the communist society.

At another point, under the heading of "Mass Action," the program of the proposed revolution is described.

CIVIL WAR URGED.

In the revolutionary epoch upon which the world has now entered, "the party program says, "forces the proletarian to resort to militant methods—mass action, leading to direct conflict with the bourgeoisie."

Mass action culminated in armed insurrection and civil war.

This can be nothing else but a direct struggle between the armed forces of the capitalist state on one hand and the armed forces of the proletarian revolution on the other."

The communist party will keep in the foreground the idea of the necessity of violent revolution for the destruction of the capitalist state and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat based on Soviet power.

The communist party will systematically and persistently propagate the idea of the inevitability of and necessity for violent revolution, and will prepare the workers for armed insurrection as the only means of overthrowing the capitalist state."

FIRE SWEEPS TOWN WHERE THAW HELD

COATICOOK, Que., March 20.—We today destroyed the Methodist church and parsonage, the Grand Central hotel, two furniture stores, bakery, drug store and a harness shop. Several barns and sheds also were destroyed.

Louis Fournier, 90 years old, was burned to death. Several firemen were injured.

This town came into prominence some years ago when Harry Kendall Thaw, who had here after his escape from Matteawan hospital, met Anna, his former sweetheart.

He was buried here after his death.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 20.—Edward Young Clarke, former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, was reported by his attorney to be unavailable when a charge of using the mail to defraud was called for trial in United States district court here today. His $500 bond was forfeited by Judge Samuel Sibley without comment from his attorney, who had been given an hour to make arrangements for Clarke's appearance in court next Monday.

Sidney Smith, attorney for Clarke, reported last week in Houston, Tex., that he did not know Clarke well enough, and asked for continuance for Clarke after April 20 when a charge of violating the Mann act is set for trial.

EXPULSION FOR CHITIUS ASKED BY PRUNE GROWERS

Resolution Adopted at San Jose Meeting As Sequel to Efficiency Report Row.

SAN JOSE, March 20.—Expulsion of Superior Judge J. R. Welch "and his associates" from membership in the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association was demanded in a resolution adopted by the information committee of the organization at a meeting in the San Jose city hall last night. The meeting was attended by about 300 members of the association.

This action was a sequel to the controversy that developed many months ago in connection with the preparation of an efficiency committee's report on the activities of the association. Judge Welch opposed the report. At last night's meeting speakers asserted that Judge Welch and his associates had published pamphlets criticizing the report.

Judge Welch and his associates were characterized as "agitators" and "disloyal" to the association in talks made at last night's meeting.

The resolution demanding the expulsion of Judge Welch recited that he and his associates had attempted to usurp the authority of the directors, the voting board and the efficiency committee. The resolution was addressed to the voting board. It did not designate Judge Welch's associates by name. Judge Welch, a judge of the Santa Clara county Superior Court, said this morning that he was not yet ready to say anything for publication in reply.

Speakers at last night's meeting included H. C. Dunlap, secretary of the association; H. G. Coykendall, manager, and Mrs. Ruth G. Wallace, A. T. Jones of San Martin, chairman of the information committee presided. There were members present from as far away as Healdsburg.

DECREE GIVEN ON POLYGAMY CLAIM

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Declaring that her husband advocated polygamy, Mrs. Maile J. McLean, 765 Hayes street, testified at length today before Superior Judge Thomas G. Graham in connection with an action for divorce. The defendant, Andrew L. McLean, a former rancher of Willow, has a fondness for other women, according to the wife's evidence, and at one occasion asked her permission to take another female companion. She said that after she refused her consent, he made advances to some of her guests.

Mrs. McLean was corroborated by Miss Carolyn Hansen, of 2233 California street, who said that McLean had shown unbecoming attentions to her.

The court granted the wife a decree with the custody of a daughter, and adequate provision for the child's support.

$5900 Asked For Cabinet Shop Raid

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—A. Goodman, wealthy department store owner, was made defendant today in a damage suit for $50,000, filed by J. Goldman of 1605 O'Farrell street. Goodman claims that Goodman and several others broke into his cabinet shop and took away his machinery and wrecked the place in order to satisfy a debt of $100, which was in litigation in the justice of the peace's court. Goodman claims that his property was damaged to the extent of $19,000 and that his feelings were hurt to the extent of $40,000 more.

Wife Deserts Thrice, Husband Is Freed

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Deserted, he claimed three times by his wife, since their marriage August 11, 1918, John W. Barrett, an official of the Internal Tax Department of the United States Internal Revenue Office, was granted a divorce today by Superior Judge J. J. Van Cleave. He said that the last desertion of his spouse, Mrs. Marguerite Barrett, occurred on January 4, at which time she told him that marriage was the bunk.

Woman Fined $100 For Cabinet Shop Raid

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Mrs. Josephine Bush of El Cerrito, Contra Costa county, was fined $100 in the federal court for violating the Volstead act. With a partner Mrs. Bush conducts a small store. She says she was sick in bed when Volstead officers descended on the place and that her partner made the mistake of pouring the contraband liquor in the bathtub where it was subsequently recovered by the raiding party.

POSLEM OFTEN ENDS PIMPLES IN 24 HOURS

People who know what Poslem can do don't worry any more about pimples. Never any of these annoying eruptions appear, they just dab them at night with that gentle healing ointment. It is so concentrated that by the next morn'g the pimples have sometimes dried away. And again, with a bit of Poslem, this seldom fails to 'do the trick' and it is hardly noticeable on the face. Washing the face with Poslem soap and water helps the treatment wonderfully, and the regular use of Poslem soap tends to keep the complexion clear. For further information, see your druggist or Poslem, 100 E. 23rd Street, New York City.

MOTHER WINS SON PROBATION

Congressmen Probing Navy Are Arrested

ABOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON, BALBOA, March 20.—(By radio to the Associated Press)—Two members of Secretary Denby's congressional party, seeking first-hand information about sailor life, wound up in the hands of a naval patrol last night, according to stories they related today to fellow congressmen.

Clark, who was represented by Charles M. Pickert, former district attorney of San Francisco county, was accused of having broken into a room occupied by Richard Denby at 1340 Madison street on the afternoon of November 23, 1922.

Mrs. Clark, the youth's mother, took the stand and told the court that her son kept out of trouble as much as he stayed away from drink.

Fixing the terms of probation, Judge Church ordered that Clark stay away from liquor and said that one indulgence would result in a violation of probation.

Sniffs at S. F. Stir Wife to Get Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The people of California had culture and that San Francisco was little more than a village, was the sort of propaganda that disrupted the married life of Mrs. Florence Clarke, of 454 Tenth hand's relatives. Mrs. Clarke was granted a divorce today by Superior Judge Moran from William E. Clarke, a contractor and builder of New York. She said that the insult to the West which hurt her came from members of her husband's family who came out to visit them. After their departure, she said, on September 19, 1921, she found her husband missing and a note, telling her that he had gone away. With him she declared he took $4000, representing part of their joint savings. Later through an attorney, she recovered $1000 of the money. She was granted a divorce.

Car Rolls Over on Grade; But One Hurt

SAN JOSE, March 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens and their four children narrowly escaped death or serious injury late Sunday night when the car in which they were riding, piloted by Stevens, crashed over the grade on the Santa Cruz county line, turned two complete somersaults and came to a stop against a tree several hundred feet down the side of the canyon. Mrs. Stevens was the most seriously injured, receiving a badly sprained ankle. The other occupants of the car escaped with minor cuts and

FORECLOSURE TO COLLECT $100,000 ON NOTE ASKED

Suit Filed by Countess de Choisenul Against Estate of John M. Locke.

Suit for the foreclosure of a mortgage on a piece of Oakland property belonging to the estate of John M. Locke was filed today by Countess Gilbert de Choisenul. According to the complaint, a loan for $10,000 was executed in 1916, and it was secured by the property, which is on the north side of Fourteenth street between Clay and Jefferson streets. The property is appraised at $200,000.

Locke died in September, 1921, leaving most of his estate to his wife and children. The property mentioned in the foreclosure proceedings, however, was willed to various charitable agencies, subject to the encumbrance. These were New York Society for the relief of the poor, the Domestic and Foreign Mission Society of the Episcopal church of the United States, and the California Diocese of the Episcopal church.

Their first task, he added, was to bring the German workmen to the point of overthrowing the bourgeoisie and putting the great industries of the Rhineland and Ruhr into the hands of the German revolutionists.

Heinrich Brandler, German

delegate and president of the United Communist party, reported that the danger of Fascism in Germany had led the communists to organize "defensive companies."

Other speeches were made by French, Russian, Dutch, Polish and Bulgarian representatives.

M. Marinus of the French delegation announced that a number of the French communists had been arrested by German police while on their way to Frankfort. This evoked expressions of indignation, coming on the heels of the arrest in Paris last Saturday of the German communists and Reichstag member, Endi Breitner.

Gomes testified as to his earnings. Before the allegations of the complaint, which was filed by Mrs. Gomes and the cross-complaint, which was filed by the husband, were taken up, Judge Smith asked Gomes if he still loved his wife. Gomes broke down and told the court that he did, and that he had no wish to prosecute his cross-complaint, despite its sensational allegations.

Judge Smith then questioned Mrs. Gomes, and as a result took the two into his chambers. After several minutes he appeared and announced that a reconciliation had been effected.

Judge Smith to End at One O'Clock

SAN JOSE, March 20.—Local News 153, American Federation of Musicians, announced yesterday that the union has unanimously endorsed the 1 o'clock closing ordinance affecting dance halls recently passed by the board of supervisors. The union will take action against any member who violates this law and requests contractors and leaders to report any dance hall owner or manager who attempts to run after 1 a.m.

New officers of the local Musicians union have been elected as follows:

President, W. H. Johnson; vice-president, C. A. Fitzgerald; secretary, W. F. Antes; treasurer, W. E. McCurdy; sergeant-at-arms, B. F. Wood; directors, Leo Sullivan, A. D. Pirard, C. P. Duncan, M. W. Eaton and R. Hill; trustees, E. T. Chase, J. A. Antes and Miss T. Broshak.

EASTER SERVICE
ON MT. DIABLO

MARTINEZ, March 20.—Mount Diablo will be the Mecca of a caravan of automobileists on Easter afternoon. On the summit of the Meridian Mountain, 4000 feet above the sea, Easter devotions are to be conducted, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The Contra Costa county Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring this event, has appointed committees to arrange the details and provide for the convenience of those who participate in the service. It is anticipated that the houseward up the mountain will be in first class condition and that traffic officers will be stationed to safeguard the movement of machines along the scenic highway.

Representatives of many organizations attended the opening of the Aquitania with eagles today.

On the open air platform, which is being given by the Aquitania, the entire program will be presented.

WORTH OF A UNIVERSITY.

When California's Legislature met for the first time the subject of a State University was discussed. The vision of an institution which would be "the light of the Pacific extending its radiance along the Western shores," was held by the pioneers.

At the recent banquet of the Alumni Association of the University of California William H. Waste, Justice of the Supreme Court of the state, spoke of the University as a former student, as a Berkeleyan, and as an official who has had many opportunities to study his subject.

Justice Waste is not given to extravagant statement. His recital of the story of the achievement of the University of California, of its struggling start and advance into first place among American colleges, is the solid assurance of rosy dreams come true, and a judicial appraising of the place and the worth of the University.

Since the University of California started approximately 40,000 students have entered. The remarkable growth is indicated by the fact that four years of present registration will more than double this figure. Justice Waste has said that it may be roughly estimated that the University reaches directly, or by some means, one out of every five persons in the State.

How is one to judge the worth of a university? In round figures the one in this state represents between $17,000,000 and $20,000,000. It is the largest in the United States, probably in the world, and it costs the State each year to run it, $7,500,000.

In service rendered to residents of California the University returns the value of the expenditure many fold. It prepares the youth of the State for business and professional life; it reaches out through the home demonstration department and extension department into all corners of California; it makes better farms and better farmers; trains teachers and conducts research work which is of incalculable value. Discovery of a new barley, for instance, means more money to the grain growers of the State than the University appropriation. Extermination of a pest represents a saving large enough to erect great college halls.

California has always held to high ideals for a university. It has been called upon to build rapidly for this comparative newcomer among colleges has outstripped all the rest, including the famous Eastern universities which were established in Colonial days. The University of California, as Justice Waste said, has justified the faith of the forefathers.

It is growing so rapidly that the test now is one of the fast and foresight of the present.

THE DAYS OF GOLD.

Jonah the Second was spouted up on Goat Island back in the days when Panenke Peter, Frowzy-Faced Phil and Nugget Nellie were making local history in the mining country. Those were the days of rare stories of adventure which came in a new land to men who had crossed the plains and rounded the Horn. The Frowzy-Faced Phil of one year became the millionaire of the next; towns were built over night and deserted for new ones; laws were simple and men direct.

Already the days of '98 are surrounded in a glow of tradition and it is difficult to penetrate that glow for an understanding of the real life, talk and dress of the day. The men and women of the mining camps did not know they were making history; to each other they were not picturesque and romantic. They were out after gold, and they built their cities and their community life to fit their needs. Because they came from all parts of the country and the world and were of so many nationalities in life they presented a cosmopolitan group to the wilderness. Naturally all were adventurous and persistent or they would not have undertaken the search. So they came, the dreamer and the schemer, the old man who had failed in business, and the young one who gained on the chance of getting rich quick, the good and the bad, the reckless and the shrewd. Unwittingly they set the stage for a great drama. No chapter in history has seen so many unique individuals.

Californians will have the opportunity to read authentic stories of the gold days with the publication of a series in The TRIBUNE by Harry C. Peterson, head of the field historical research work for the State Library, the man who liked all over the Mother Lode interviewing the surviving forty-niners, and who collected letters, diaries and other records from the attics and storerooms of the mining camps. He knows what the oldtimers thought of Mark Twain and Bret Harte, the adventures of Hurrican Bill and Harpoony Hal and a thousand and one other tales.

The Peterson stories will start Sunday in The TRIBUNE. Inasmuch as they give the facts and the color of the days of '49 they are a distinct contribution to California history and literature.

THE RURAL CREDITS PLAN.

Out of a number of rural credits measures the Congress just adjourned fashioned one bill which may be called one of the greatest accomplishments of the legislative body. If it succeeds in its objects of meeting the needs of the farmer it will have an immediate effect on trade and commerce and will give new hope to those agriculturalists who have been through some recent lean years.

In framing the rural credits bill Congress had to take in mind the fact that two-thirds of the agricultural commodities produced in the United States are produced west of the Mississippi River. In many of these sections, particularly the great grain growing states, the local demand for agricultural credit exceeds the local supply. The loans, accordingly, have been small and the rates relatively high.

Not all states have been so fortunate as California in marketing their crops. There are crops in California, even, which have not moved. It is the object of rural credit legislation just passed to adapt the Federal Reserve System more nearly to the farmer's needs; to give the farmer credit corresponding to his production and turnover period; to provide the machinery by which money can be drawn from the centers of domestic and international commercial activity into the agricultural regions; and to provide credit adequate in character and volume for the operations of farmers' cooperative marketing associations.

To these ends the rural credit bill extends the maturity of agricultural paper discountable with the Federal Reserve Bank from six to nine months and otherwise liberalizes the interpretations so as to include paper of cooperative marketing associations. It provides for the establishment of twelve intermediate credit banks to be located in the same cities as the Federal Land banks. They are authorized to issue debentures to an amount equal to ten times their capital and obligations, making a total loan capacity of $600,000,000 which is about twice the maximum amount of the loans made at any time by the War Finance Corporation.

These banks are authorized to rediscount agricultural paper having a maturity of from six months to three years for national banks, state banks, trust companies or cooperative banks and marketing associations. They may make direct loans to farmers' associations upon paper secured by warehouse receipts and the paper so discounted is made the security.

The operation of these new banks will in no way interfere with the existing credit machinery or in any way lessen the ability of banks of deposit to furnish ordinary commercial credit. The banks set up by the act are not banks of deposit, but investment banks dealing solely with investment credit. The bill is the answer of President Harding and Congress to the needs for adequate intermediate credit legislation.

The season is approaching for the well known "Raisin Day" festivities. There is little doubt but more raisin bread and concoctions containing raisins will be baked and cooked because of the incidents of this celebration. Today Government declared the day, and thus brought it into quasi-official notice; the siren, innumerable, has given notice that there will be no more such foolishness." Raisin Day will therefore have to get along without gubernatorial sanction. It will have to function "on its own," as it were, which it can pretty well afford to do by now, the raisin being so well established as a food.

The fear that finds expression every once in a while that the subterranean reservoirs of petroleum are being exhausted, and that soon gasoline will cost so much that everybody can not afford an automobile, seems not to be justified. At least some of the big wells in the Coalinga district have been shut down because of an overstock. Instead of fearing a shortage the Fresno Chamber of Commerce is to petition the oil companies to resume pumping, that the hundreds of men who have been thrown out of employment by the shut-down may resume their jobs. That is very different from the fear that the oil was being pumped out too fast.

The society of those who are Tutankhamen reincarnated already includes several thousand members.

EDUCATORS OF U.S. JOIN BUDGET WAR

National Association Wires Appeal That California Take No Backward Step in Handling School Work

The National Education Association today entered into the controversy affecting the governor, the state superintendent of schools, the budget and the school system.

The national association, in a telegram to Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter, entered protest against the possibility of "any action that will make California a less appropriate meeting place for the teachers of the nation and of the world."

The message is signed by J. W. Crabtree, and Hunter is addressed as chairman of the joint executive committee of the coming N. E. A. convention and of the World Conference on Education.

PRELUDE TO CONVENTION.

The telegram comes, it is admitted, as a prelude to the great national and international conventions of educators in Oakland this summer, and local school officials assert that the telegram must be based upon information received in the East from various California teachers concerning the "California school row." It is admitted that many teachers fear a possible curtailment of school budgets.

The telegram says:

"We are informed by the California State Teachers' Association and by local associations within the state that certain interests are advocating retrenchment in education in California which threatens the efficiency of the state public school system. This danger to the successful operation of the public schools of California is of great concern to the National Education Association, whose charter granted by Congress pledges it to elevate the character and advance the interests of the profession of teaching, and to promote the cause of popular education in the United States."

BIG MEETINGS HERE.

The National Education Association has but recently taken action scheduling its next convention in Oakland and San Francisco in July, 1923. This meeting will draw thousands of teachers to California from every state in the Union.

The great world conference on education sponsored by the National Education Association has also been scheduled to meet in Oakland and San Francisco next summer. This conference on education will bring together official delegates from every civilized country in the world.

The decision to hold these great gatherings in California, in spite of the unusual expenditure of time and money involved, was the result of a recognition of California's pre-eminent place in the field of public education. What was more fitting than that the teachers of the nation and of the world should meet in the Golden State, there to deliberate as to how the school may be made a more potent force in the upward struggle of mankind?

"The National Education Association would especially regret any action on the part of the California legislature indicating a loss of faith in the efficacy of the public school as a builder of good citizenship.

In behalf of the president, William B. Owen, and other officers of the association, I appeal to your executive committee to prevent any action that will make California a less appropriate meeting place for the teachers of the nation and of the world."

$41,000 ASKED IN SUIT.

The Union Ice Company and F. Svererson are today made defendants in a suit for $41,124 damages filed by Alexander Lindsay against James E. Lindsay, aged 4, who suffered amputation of his right foot, it is alleged, because it was crushed by a truck driven by Svererson for the ice company. The accident is alleged to have happened on September 23, 1922, at East Fourteenth street and Thirty-fifth avenue. Negligence is charged.

INJUNCTION ASKED ON FERRY LEASE

RICHMOND, March 20.—The Richmond-San Francisco Ferry Company have appealed to the superior court of this city for an injunction against the city Richmond and A. H. Draughon to prevent carrying out the terms of a lease which the city awarded Draughon for the establishment of a direct ferry line between Richmond and San Francisco. Personal service in the suit was made on the members of the council last night. The suit was filed in the name of M. A. Gordon, secretary of the complaining company.

The plaintiffs allege that the city council had no authority in law to grant the lease and that the site in question is held in trust by the city and may not be alienated. The suit was filed by Attorney Elmer E. Robinson, former assistant district attorney at San Francisco.

IN HANING SPACE SCARCE

"March 18—Housing is so difficult in San Francisco that few families can retain an entire house. Every section of the city's housing committee makes constant inspections up the space in all buildings. Large houses are being divided up in an unscrupulous way to meet with the housing regulations and guarantee privacy to the tenants. Apartments in better buildings in San Francisco are so large that it is difficult for a family to retain a whole apartment. Consequently there are two families cooking in many kitchens, and the comic papers are full of jokes about the complications arising from the housing regulations."

Spending a Million a Day For Live Stock

If you put a million dollars cash into your pocket every morning, and it was all spent by noon, you'd feel that you had been doing something people would be interested in hearing about wouldn't you?

We spend on an average of a million dollars every morning of the year—Sundays and holidays excepted.

This money comes from the retail dealer and the consumer in exchange for products. With it we buy live stock. In our hands this live stock becomes meat and by-products, which through our widespread service of refrigerator cars and branch houses, becomes available to every consumer.

Our 1923 Year Book, just published, gives you our financial standing; it tells you that our profit from all sources for 1922 averaged only a fraction of a cent per pound and only 2 cents on each dollar of sales, and a great deal of other information about our business and the service which we render.

We shall be glad to mail you a copy if you will send us your address.

SEMINARY HEAD TO OPEN RITES ON CHARTER DAY

Dr. Warren H. Landon Is to Deliver Invocation and Benediction.

BERKELEY, March 20.—Dr. Warren H. Landon, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, was today added to the list of Charter Day participants at the University of California, and will deliver the invocation and benediction at Friday morning's exercises in the Greek Theater.

Paul Stelendorff, university choragus, will lead the university orchestra and chorus in selections as a part of the traditionally simple exercises which will mark the observation of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the state university. Admiral William Snowden Sims, U. S. N., retired, who will deliver the annual Charter Day address, is expected to attract a record-breaking crowd to the amphitheater and tickets for the event are being rapidly sold out at the university.

Following is the program for Charter Day as announced by President David P. Barrows: 9:30 a. m.—Gates to the Greek Theater will be opened. Admission will be by ticket. After 10 a. m., however, all unlabeled seats will be offered to the public, which is requested to use the upper entrances.

9:45 a. m.—Students will assemble on the campus as follows:

Women undergraduate students will form by classes (seniors at the north, freshmen at the south); a column of twos facing northward, between the lower south entrance of the Greek Theater and Senior Women's Hall.

Men undergraduate students will form by classes (seniors at the east, freshmen at the west); a column of twos, facing eastward, on the road beside the Civil Engineering building.

Graduate students and students in the professional colleges in San Francisco will form a column of twos, facing eastward, on the walk which flanks the south side of the Chemistry buildings.

10:45 a. m.—The three student divisions of the procession will march into the Greek Theater, divisions 1 and 3 by the upper south entrance, division 2 by the upper north entrance. Students will rise and remain standing while the Alumni, Regents, Faculty, and guests are entering the theater.

8:50 a. m.—The Alumni will form in double file on the circular walk in front of the Hearst Memorial Mining Building. The formation will be by classes.

10:00 a. m.—Regents, Faculty, and invited guests will form in double file, facing northward, on the esplanade by the Sather Tower, grouped from north to south as follows: (a) Faculties, and (b) Guests and Regents.

10:10 a. m.—The Alumni division will march to the Greek Theater, the earliest class leading, and enter by the lower north entrance, whence they will proceed to seats reserved for them on the stage.

10:15 a. m.—Divisions a and b will to the Greek Theater. Upon the arrival at the north entrance of the theater, the lines will halt, open ranks, face inward, and then enter the theater in reverse order.

10:30 a. m.—Exercises begin. The Charter Day address will be delivered by Admiral William Snowden Sims.

9:00 a. m.-12:00 p. m.: 1:00-4:00 p. m.—All Alumni should register at the Alumni Headquarters office of the executive manager of the Alumni Association, 301 Stephens Hall, which will be open during these hours.

1:30 p. m.—Baseball game, California Field, Faculty vs. Skull and Keys Society.

3:00 p. m.—Baseball game, California Field, All-Varsity Alumni team vs. California Varsity team.

4:00-6:00 p. m.—The President and Mrs. Barrows and Admiral and Mrs. Sims will receive the Faculty, Alumni, and guests of the University in Stephens Hall.

7:00 p. m.—Alumni dinner and dance, Hotel Oakland.

CHARITY CHEST DRIVE GROWS IN BERKELEY

Flying Squadron of Active Campaigners to Organize Tomorrow.

BERKELEY, March 20.—The "Flying Squadron" of the Community Chest which will solicit subscriptions from the citizens of Berkeley will be organized at a dinner in the varsity at 6:15 tomorrow evening.

Roy R. Henderson, campaign manager, has sent word to 50 of the best sleasmen in the city, and from these will be selected a squadron of 30 members.

Campaign Manager H. L. Eddy addressed a meeting of the public school principals yesterday afternoon at the room of the Board of Education. The teachers promised full co-operation, and beginning tomorrow will place on school blackboards a daily questionnaire dealing with the Community Chest ideals and social welfare problems. Answers to these will be published in the newspapers the same night.

Special pamphlets will be given to school children to be taken home to parents. These will explain the aims and purposes of each of the 21 social agencies that will benefit by the Community Chest.

CAMPAGN PLAN TOLD.

Plans for the campaign which is to be held April 6 to 12 were discussed at a special meeting of the general committee of the Chest late yesterday afternoon at headquarters. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that the success of the campaign is assured if a sufficient number of workers volunteer services.

Campaign Manager Henderson reported that he was having some difficulty in getting enough team captains.

Prof. Matthew Lynch, chairman of the "four minute men" speaker bureau, reported that he could use several more orators. He has planned an elaborate campaign which includes reaching every civic organization in the city.

Meetings scheduled for Thursday are: 2:30 Women's Service League, First Presbyterian church, Robert N. Rushford, speaker; 3:00—Berkeley League of Women Voters, Dr. Jessica Peirce, speaker; 8:15—Cedarnices club, Seldon Smith, speaker; 8:15—Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Rev. Thomas J. Brennan, pastor of St. Joseph church, speaker.

JOB OF CUTTING POISON OAK HAS NO U. C. TAKERS

BERKELEY, March 20.—How much will a student do for the sake of an education?

Some one is anxious to find out. Witness this announcement in the Student Employment Bureau bulletin board at the University of California:

"Wanted—College student to cut out poison oak. Good pay."

This is only one of a number of freak jobs offered to students, but so far no one has accepted it, though the advertisement has been posted for two days.

Among the jobs done by students who are working their way through college are: Waiting on tables, gardening, dishwashing, telephone work, typing, stenography, manicuring and others.

Ings are already well under way. Last night Elmer E. Nichols spoke before the Men's League of the Friends' church, and Seldon Smith spoke before the Hillside Club.

MANY MEETINGS HELD.

Managing Director Chas. Keeler of the Chamber of Commerce addressed the Twentieth Century Club this afternoon. Campaign Director H. L. Eddy spoke to the Hawthorne Parent-Teachers Association. Mrs. J. P. Buwalda, formerly policewoman of Washington, D. C., will talk on social welfare work at a meeting of the University Y. M. C. A.

Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin, general chairman, will be the speaker tomorrow noon at the Berkeley Mobilized Women's luncheon in their clubhouse, Ninth street and University avenue. Campaign Director Eddy will speak before the Alameda County Social Workers at a luncheon in Oakdale. Executive Secretary John V. Bergin of the Y. M. C. A. will talk at a meeting of the Whittier Parent-Teachers Association at the Whittier school.

Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin will address the women of St. Clement's church at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In the evening Mrs. Buwalda will address the College Women's club.

Meetings scheduled for Thursdays are: 2:30 Women's Service League, First Presbyterian church, Robert N. Rushford, speaker; 3:00—Berkeley League of Women Voters, Dr. Jessica Peirce, speaker; 8:15—Cedarnices club, Seldon Smith, speaker; 8:15—Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Rev. Thomas J. Brennan, pastor of St. Joseph church, speaker.

How they
"warm up" to it!

There's no morning mystery about Germea—or why children like it. Here is a breakfast cereal that appeals to kiddies' hearts (and "tummies") not on the strength of its goodness but because it tastes so good to them. That's why children "warm up" to it morning after morning.

Set a steaming bowl of Germea in front of your critical youngsters tomorrow morning—and see what happens! Your grocer has it!

Ask your grocer also for Encore Pancake Flour and other members of the Sperry (Red Package) Cereal Family.

Immigration Will Be Studied at U. C.

BERKELEY, March 20.—The effects of immigration, particularly the problem of race and nationality, the principles of scientific control, and the ethics of the question will be studied during the coming U. C. summer session under Henry Pratt Fairchild, of New York University. Professor Fairchild will also deliver a series of lectures on Community Service.

From 1900 to 1903, Professor Fairchild was instructor in the International College in Smyrna, Turkey. Since that time, he has held positions in various American institutions. He has been professor of social economy and director of the Bureau of Community Service and Research in New York University since 1913.

ANKLE KERCHIEF IS VERY LATEST NOW IN OAKLAND

Introduced First by Movie Star and Now Here With Fair Sex Backer.

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

No need to go to Palm Beach to learn the very latest in fads and fancies. Oakland is being introduced to the very latest and when I say latest I mean the last word, the strangle hold. It's the ankle's handkerchief! In polite and fashionable language, it is a kerchief.

You've seen kerchiefs knotted around the neck, you've seen them draped around the waist, you've seen them worn on the new spring bonnets and even fastened in a perky bow on the wrist, but you've never before seen the baby bandana nestling about the ankle.

Betty Compson, famous picture star, introduced it to Hollywood the other day, but it is Miss Frances Riesner, 3118 Randolph avenue, who is introducing it to Oakland. Miss Riesner is a follower of foolish fancies, ethier, but this fascinating ankle kerchief idea came about in the most natural way in the world.

BACKER TELLS STORY.

Firstly, Miss Riesner is bookkeeper for a local merchant, so she just revels in being surrounded by pretty clothes and the newest fashions. Then, secondly, she quite naturally hears about the original ideas and doings of the film folks for, beside keeping in touch with them on her own account, she has a brother who is co-director for Charlie Chaplin and a four-year-old nephew, Dinky Dean, who is playing with the great comedian. So you see, these two commanding beings present the thought, she is in the one to adopt the very chic idea of the kerchief ankle.

Frances Riesner is going to be a scenario writer some day, for she has already written several short stories and she intends to go to Hollywood soon to be coached in scenario writing by her clever

"Dinky" Dean.

"The ankle kerchief," says Miss Riesner, "is not only a fab but an attractive accessory to a young

Anky-Hanky, Fashion's Latest Legacy

woman's summer wardrobe. Against kerchiefs look very fetching and may be selected to match any gown."

Thinking it over, much may be gleaned in favor of this very newest of fads. One may find the bandana kerchief a legitimate excuse for distinctly elevating the long skirt.

SEVERAL CLAIMS MADE.

It will be possible to keep at least one ankle warm these cool spring evenings.

Twill lessens the trials of the Anti-Flirt club, for the eyes of the master will be on the ground where they belong.

If you don't have so many pockets, the ankle kerchief will solve the extra "hankie" problem.

Wearing a bandana on your head and an ankle kerchief on your pedal extremity would be carrying the fad to extremes.

If you had a kerchief on your new Easter hat, another around your neck, one about your waist and still another on your wrist and then tied one around your ankle to boot, that would indeed be putting your foot in it.

A vision of a pretty girl decked out like that in tones of ultramarine would make a nifty cover page for the "Bandana Blues."

If you tie the kerchief about a too-sturdy Jimmie, the effect will have the earmarks of a sprained tarsus or a broken thighbone. On the other hand, if you own a shapely ankle which measures something less than eight and a half inches, as does Miss Riesner's, you will be quite safe in adopting the very latest arrangement of the captivating kerchief.

It is this quality in the human mind which prompted the research made by Mrs. P. K. Webster, local car distributor, when approaching regarding our stated continuance in the growing market for the high grade car. Mrs. Webster stated: "Almost every car buyer starts at the bottom of the market, buys a low-priced car, and works up by a series of progressive steps as long as his earning capacity will stand the increased price. It is because this procedure is so well defined, and follows directly the natural drift of man to that there seems to be no doubt that the finer cars will always have a market, be the mass production of light cars ever so great.

There is no cause to regret this progression. To begin with it is economical, and we Americans cannot afford to drive too far for our disregard for the rich, but are our natural heritage. Much better to practice driving on an inexpensive car and with equipment of a sturdy, rough and ready type, and when one has become a competent driver, able to appreciate the fine points of a higher form of mechanism and to use the discretion which makes driving an art, to buy the better car for which motoring education has prepared one.

"That is why I say that I have no fear for the future of the high grade car. The buyers of today's inexpensive models are tomorrow's prospects for the finer types of motors."

Oats yield 1810 calories of nutrient per pound, while round oats yield 1800. Oats stand 16 to 18 hours in a natural form. They are rich in minerals which growing children need. So the oat forms almost a complete food—nearly the ideal food.

Every mother wants to make this dish inviting, and we make these luscious flakes to aid her. Yet they cost no extra price. Quaker Oats, in either style, costs but one-half cent per dish.

So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

The kind that children love

Quaker Oats is made to foster the love of oats. The oat is supreme food. As a food for growth and as vim-food nothing can take its place.

HARRY WILLIAMS OF LOS ANGELES TO SUCCEED McCARTHY

CONTROL OF THE PACIFIC COAST BASEBALL LEAGUE PASSES OUT OF SEAL OWNERS' HANDS

LOS ANGELES WRITER IS SLATED TO SUCCEED PRESIDENT McCARTHY

Lockard and Killefer Finance Deal Themselves and Deny That Wrigley Helped Them Buy the Seattle Ball Club

By BOB SHAND.

The sale of the Seattle baseball franchise to Charles Lockard and Wade Killefer, of Los Angeles, will mean a new deal all around in the Pacific Coast League, according to those who ought to know. With Lockard doing the business for Seattle the northern club will be aligned with Oakland, Salt Lake, Portland and Los Angeles against San Francisco, Sacramento and Vernon. The new alignment means five votes, to three at the next meeting of the league instead of the four to four deadlock with President McCarthy casting the deciding vote as happened at the last meeting, held in Portland.

And with control passing out of the hands of the San Francisco magnate, a brand new policy for the league is being framed and may be put into effect before the season opens.

William H. McCarthy will be given an opportunity to resign before the next meeting of the league is called. If he decides to quit, Harry Williams, Los Angeles sporting editor, will be elected president.

Should McCarthy decide to remain in office until his term expires next November at a special meeting of the league will be called and action taken on the draft, the matter of territorial rights in Los Angeles clubs, Killefer said the other day, and before the pair they had been trying to put through the deal for the Siwash franchise.

It is known that the majority in the league now favors the restoration of the draft and that the old agreement with the majors will be put into effect.

President McCarthy declares he will remain on the job until his term expires, but he admits the majority can make things mighty unpleasant for him. McCarthy has intimated that he will start a probe of the purchase of Seattle by Lockard and Killefer in an attempt to

Krug or Griggs To Be Manager Of the Angels

Wrigley Denies That He Is Interested in Seattle Franchise.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 20.—Persons in touch with the managerial and of baseball were speculating here today on the effect that the sale of the Seattle club to Wade (Red) Killefer and associates of Los Angeles would have on the leadership of the Pacific Coast league. Some said that William H. McCarthy of San Francisco was likely to pass out as president and that the league would change to acquire the draft.

Those who held this view pointed out that Charles D. Lockard, one of the purchasers, led as a representative of the Los Angeles club a fight to the draft at a league meeting in Portland when refusal to accept it was voted 5 to 4. McCarthy's Post-Intelligencer, news of the change in ownership was received with consternation by the players of the club in their training camp at San Jose, Cal. A dispatch from the paper said that the men were agreed that they would stand back of Harry Wolverton, manager, with a contract to run year yet. If he were retained as scout or paid in full the salary he would receive.

Marty Krug, second baseman, and Art Griggs, first sacker of the Angels, are mentioned in rumors as possible successors to "Indian" Red.

The deal will be one of the big sensations in minor league baseball, according to fans, who say the new owners of the Seattle club will line up with the Los Angeles, Oakland, Portland and Salt Lake clubs against the Vernon, San Francisco and Sacramento organizations in the fight against Vernon's claim to equal territorial rights in Los Angeles.

Fans also say they believe the deal will result in the passing of William H. McCarthy of San Francisco as president of the league.

McCarthy voted against the Los Angeles club's interest at the last meeting of the league directors and the tie of the directors of the Little four, the Angels and the clubs which sided with them was so aroused that they bolted the meeting.

They oppose McCarthy as head of the league is a well known fact, the fans say, and McCarthy himself is quoted today as saying he expects to be ousted from once at the next league meeting in November. He will not resign he said.

"I could not own two clubs in the same league," said William Wrigley Jr. when questioned if he were financially interested in the deal.

Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, leading American professional golfers and embryo motion picture stars, have made plans to participate in the British open tournament during which Hagen will defend his title, according to information received in golfing circles.

Hagen and Sarazen Going to England

NEW YORK, March 20.—Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, leading American professional golfers and embryo motion pictures stars, have made plans to participate in the British open tournament during which Hagen will defend his title, according to information received in golfing circles.

Hagen, his touring companion, Joe Kirkwood, and Sarazen, expect to sail from New York about May 1. Hagen is expected to make arrangements for appearing in the movies as Sarazen is doing already.

Sarazen, it is understood, has discarded his rib-faced clubs, whose use is forbidden in England, and is practicing back spin shots daily with clubs that he will be permitted to use in the British open.

Modesto Planning a Big Shoot April 15

MODESTO, March 20.—Modesto's crack shotgun team, which won second among 45 teams in the big shoot held at Alameda Sunday, is now preparing for the big local blue rock shoot to be held here April 15. It will be the seventeenth annual shoot held here without a gap in the years.

The members of the Modesto Rod and Gun club team that had second Saturday are Henry Garrison, D. C. Davidson, Dr. E. V. Falk, A. D. Wilson and A. H. Hudson. They broke 233 out of 250 targets, three less than were broken by the Golden Gate team, which was shooting on its home grounds.

The event here will be between the Merced shoot of April 1 and the Lodi shoot of April 21.

Genaro and Lynch Battle Is Sought

NEW YORK, March 20.—Frankie Genaro, of New York, American flyweight champion, may have a chance to duplicate Johnny Buff's feat of holding two ring titles.

Tentative negotiations are under way to match the diminutive Art Sider and Joe Lynch, of New York, world's bantamweight titleholder, for a 15-round contest at Madison Square Garden, May 4, as a finale to the indoor season.

SPERRY NINE WINS

VALLEJO, March 20.—As Pitcher or scratch in the Sperry team, in fine shape on Sunday, and allowed the Redmen but three hits, the Sperry team won from the Redmen at the high school diamond, a score of 8 to 2.

SPIRAGUS CAN PRICES LISTED BY CALIF. PACKING

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

These quotations of prices on the New York Stock Exchange are from E. F. Butte & Co.'s private wire, members of the New York Stock Exchange, with offices at the Hotel Oakland.

Figures Are Higher Than a Year Ago and Reflect An Increased Crop Demand.

California Packing Corporation announced opening prices on the asparagus crop. Fancy white asparagus is quoted from $75 to $25 a dozen, while the price of the same grade of green asparagus is from $4.40 to $5 a dozen.

Commenting on the general features of the asparagus trade the corporation says:

"It is natural that the very heavy demand for canned asparagus would have its influence on the market for fresh asparagus for canning purposes. Competition for fresh asparagus to can has been keener this year than ever before and the fact that has been paid the grower is much higher than a year ago. The condition reflects in the price of canned asparagus. Furthermore, canners' costs are materially advanced on account of the increased cost of labor, box lumber, etc."

Considerable damage to fruit crops in the South Atlantic States is feared today as a result of the cold snap which gripped that section for 72 hours. In Middle Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, except in coastal sections, the fruit will be a total loss, agriculturists stated.

OREGON PORTS SHOW A FALLING OFF IN CARGOES

Mercantile Trust Co. Report for Month Shows Reduction for February.

Shipping at Oregon ports was off in February, according to the report of the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, but started March with eighteen or twenty ships loading in the river and prospects of a big month. Value of export four in February showed a gain, however. Altogether 187,242 barrels, worth $784,497, were exported in February. In February 1922, 141,913 barrels worth $723,891 were exported.

The total value of exports from Portland was $2,024,519 last month, compared to $2,020,198 in February, 1922. Only 375,000 bushels of wheat, worth $481,119 were exported, while in the corresponding month last year the figures were 1,003,387 bushels and $1,183,219.

Lumber exports for February were 14,035,118 feet, as against 28,885,021 for February, 1922. General cargo exports were $373,856, bettering the $305,529 of February last year. Apple exports in February were 85,369 boxes, valued at $132,000. Another big consignment has just been carried out by the shipping board steamer President Harrison, second of the passenger-refrigerator-freight vessels that now connect the Columbia River with South America.

February according to such statistics as building permits and bank clearings, and the city's assessed growth is reflected in great building activity in the financial districts along Stark street one of Portland's principal financial streets, revealing an aggregate expenditure of more than $200,000,000, are in various stages of construction from the steam shovel to final window washing. Other structures on which work has not started, are to be erected soon in the same district.

As Southern pine operators are coming into the Northwest field, timber transactions are developing fast. Several big deals are under way.

The Chautauqua Lumber Company has recently sold a 4200 acre tract in Lincoln county to the Pacific Spruce Corporation. The acreage holds some 275,000,000 feet of Sitka spruce and Douglas fir. The purchase gives the new owners 1,000,000,000 feet of timber on the lower Willamette watershed. The company expects to begin shipping in its own vessels in April.

Nearly 50,000,000 feet of timber, mostly fir, in Clackamas, Marion and Polk counties, has recently been sold by the government. This activity is expected to result in a railway extension into the district.

WILSON VICTIM OF DEPOT CAVE IN ULOU, JAH

KAISER'S BRIDE

Ex-President Is Described As Viewing World Through Rose-Colored Glass.

President Wilson saw the world through rose-colored glass; the Kaiser considers it quite a feast to have thick soup, baked sole and cake for dinner; the Crown Prince was near starvation recently, and the Princess Hermine's little boy was called a Rottweiler because he maulled a Dutch policeman. These are some of the interesting features of the second installment of Ferdinand Jahn's exclusive interview with the ex-emperor's bride at Doorn. A third article will be carried tomorrow.

DOORN, March 20.—"What I approach you, former President Wilson for the most is that he saw the world through rose-colored spectacles."

With this succinct comment the Princess Hermine, bride of the ex-kaiser, who was granting me the only interview she has accorded since her marriage, summarized her impressions of America's wartime President, based upon her reading.

Contrary to most of her countrymen, the princess did admit belief that Woodrow Wilson had idealistic motives, "but he didn't hold it necessary to seek—even from neutrals—a picture of actual conditions in Germany."

Wilson, therefore, Hermine continued, was a "victim" of entente propaganda—not entirely without fault on his own part.

"His long absence from the Paris conference is difficult to reconcile with the role of world arbiter, to which he has been elected."

WILSON LACKED CUNNING.

"Finally that author was right who said Woodrow Wilson, if not intellectually inferior, was subordinate to his partners in cunning."

Regarding Germany's immediate future—and in this connection the ex-kaiser agrees with his bride—the princess is free from every illusion.

As I pointed out to her the national spirit sweeping Germany as a result of the Ruhr occupation, she sighed:

"I'm pessimistic," and switched the conversation to personal affairs.

Apropos of the crown prince who, on Christmas and his father's birthday, came to Doorn, and who is expected here at Easter, Hermine called attention to his inevitable position—banishment to Wiesengen.

"In this, he resembles his father," the princess said. "Both possess unusual energy and do not permit themselves to be crushed by exile."

She told how the island home of the prince once was isolated by ice from communication with the mainland. The population, including the prince, gradually was approaching starvation, and plans were being made to transport food by airplane. Just as the Dutch government was about to undertake this rescue mission, a thaw came, breaking the ice.

PRINCE CALLED BOLSHEVIK.

The princess smiled reflectively at a reminiscence of what happened to her little boy, at the hands of a Dutch policeman. There was quite a snowfall a fortnight ago and the lad threw a snowball at a policeman. Not knowing the child, the officer "followed him to the castle gates," the princess said, not specifying at what place. Thereafter some of the Dutch press talked of Hermine's son—despite the fact she pointed out that he was only up to the pranks of ordinary youngsters—as a "Bolshevik."

That the ex-kaiser is living in no superficial but, on the contrary, modesty, could be seen in his brief remarks about the growing hard times in Germany with consequent flood of appeals for help.

"Unfortunately, it has been impossible to meet all requests," Hermine said. "Sufficients who ask for ten or twenty guilders—$1 or $2—and think they are quite modest, do not understand our situation and that is for us a considerable sum of money."

She told me how, in Doorn, one must "cut the cloth closely," especially as long as negotiations between crown and state regarding division of the emperor's fortune continues. They must be modest, here. When guests are invited, the dinner consists of soup, an entree, meat and dessert.

HAVE "ROYAL" FEAST.

For their own meals the ex-kaiser and kaisersine have one meat and fruit. Friday's menu, for instance, consists of: Thick soup, baked sole, cake.

That was considered a great feast.

In closing the interview, the princess recalled her old home in the Saar country whence many letters have come to her rejoicing in her forthcoming trip. She goes to Silesia next month to join her eldest sons at school in Germany, who will be on their holidays.

I mentioned that, as a stockholder in the Gruenberger Zeitung—a newspaper published near Saar—she must be interested in journalistic things.

"Yes, my interest is, indeed, active," Hermine replied. "I have always advocated, through the press, the settlement of social difficulties."

"Yes, my interest is, indeed, active," Hermine replied. "I have always advocated, through the press, the settlement of social difficulties."

As we were exchanging a few words in parting, the Princess created her playing children at the doorway. The children noiseily and tumultuously ran about her, took her hands, and they disappeared into the

WHEN the ex-Kaiser has company, according to his bride, the menu at Castle Doorn consists of:

- Soup.
- Entree.
- One meat.
- One dessert.

But when the former Emperor and his bride sit down together, their meals are frugal itself. Last Friday's menu for dinner was considered rare feast by Wilhelm. He and Hermine had:

- Thick soup.
- Cake.
- Baked sole.

park. Hermine looked happy as any bride could.

The court chamberlain subsequently assured me that talk of any differences within the Hohenzollern household, hidden away from the usual world beways, was purest fantasy of fevered journalistic minds.

The villagers—they are not entirely without prejudice and surely willing to gossip—say that what they have seen of the couple bears out the statement that Wilhelm and his bride are real honey-mooners.

Better Street to Honor Duran Urged

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—San Leandro has no objection to Oakland changing the name of Stanley Road to Duran avenue, in honor of the man who introduced a great automobile plant into the latter city, but this community suggests that a school or park be named for him. If not at least Stanley road can be placed in a condition that would make a thoroughfare preparatory to the change in title.

This is the unanimous opinion of the San Leandro board of trustees at a meeting last night, following reading of a communication from William J. Bacus, commissioner of streets in Oakland, stating that both the mayor and the city council there favored the change and asking this city's cooperation.

It was pointed out that the tax-collector's office will open at 10 a.m. Wednesday on the ground floor of the city hall at Washington street entrance. Official notice to this effect was issued today by City Treasurer H. J. Anderson, who however, will still conduct the general city treasurer's office on the ninth floor, where all the safes and vaults are located.

The tax-collector's office will be conducted as a branch of the city treasurer's office.

Mayor Davis and the city council will be present at the formal opening of the new offices, and the mayor will deliver a short talk.

TAX COLLECTOR TO HAVE GROUND FLOOR OFFICES

Taxpayers who for years have clamored the city hall buildings in order to reach the tax-collection offices, will have to do these now in the new building to be erected on the site of the old offices.

After four years of discussion, the tax-collection office will open at 10 a.m. Wednesday on the ground floor of the city hall at Washington street entrance.

Official notice to this effect was issued today by City Treasurer H. J. Anderson, who however, will still conduct the general city treasurer's office on the ninth floor, where all the safes and vaults are located.

The tax-collector's office will be conducted as a branch of the city treasurer's office.

Maternity, Child Hygiene Taught

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—In honor of her eighteenth birthday, a surprise party was given Miss Beatrice Furtado at her home, 506 East Fourteenth street by the T. M. C. C. club last night. St. Patrick's decorations and features predominated.

The following were present: The Messieurs J. P. Bright, L. Gorman, M. Furtado, T. Furtado, Mary Cross, the Misses Mae, Pego, Veronica Duarte, Catherine Silva, Louis Duarte, Alberta Viera, Marie Viana, Nelia Brown, Marge Gorman, Mae Furtado, Dorothy Furtado, the Misses J. P. Bright, L. Gorman, M. Furtado, T. Furtado, A. Materna, Joseph Guido, Jr., Carl Braga, A. Ayilar, Fred Parker, Sheldon Parker, Gus Parker, William Mathews, John Gorman, Miss Caroline Braga received a number of musical selections.

Speeding Autoists Fined By Jurist

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—C. D. Allen, 2901 Washington street, San Francisco, paid $10 to Judge W. J. Gannon yesterday for speeding. C. O. Ralph of Hayward was fined the same amount for a similar offense. C. E. Smith, 2226 Ninth avenue, Oakland, was fined $100 bill, or $100 at $50 in the case of A. F. Genest, 1195 Grand Avenue, which will be forfeited if he fails to answer charges here. A bench warrant for the arrest of C. E. Paul, 233 Euclid avenue, Oakland, was issued when he did not put in an appearance at the court session. He is charged with speed.

Use of Creek For Garbage Is Probed.

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—Repeated usage of the banks of the San Leandro creek as a public dumping place has brought about a joint investigation by Marshal J. F. Ferreira, local health officer, and Mrs. Susie Dalziel, member of the board of trustees and recently appointed health commissioner of Alameda.

It is expected that an ordinance making such practice a misdemeanor is to be prepared by the commissioners of Alameda.

Notice is hereby given that Mrs. Ruth A. Verma, a corporation, and a majority of the Directors thereof, have consented to the successor of the State of California in and for the County of Alameda, a petition for a writ of mandamus to restrain the Board of Supervisors of Alameda from proceeding with the construction of a dam across the creek at the point where it joins the San Leandro creek, and for an injunction against the same.

Given under my hand and seal the day of court, the 19th day of March, 1923.

Irrigation Wells Rise Eight Feet

SAN LEANDRO, March 20.—

Heavy and penetrating rains of the past months have produced more than an eight-foot rise in the wells of this vicinity, according to local irrigation experts. Not only are the wells in excellent condition, they report, but there is a liberal storage in the hills and mountains, assuring continued supply through the summer. The low depth at which water can be reached hereabout, close to 75 feet, is resulting in steady sinking of wells by farmers and orchardists for irrigating.

WHIST TOURNAMENT PLAN.

FREEDOM GIVEN TO WINNER OF GUE IN BATTLE

Court Holds Holbrook Blinn Aide Acted in Self-Defense.

Joseph Mitchell, colored, em ployed as a dresser by Holbrook Blinn, the actor, was freed of the charge of manslaughter today when Assistant District Attorney Frank M. Shay asked for a dismissal of the charge against him on the grounds that Mitchell had been shown to be acting in self defense when he struck Oscar Hymel in a club in West Oakland several months ago. Shay told Superior Judge Church that the evidence in the case showed conclusively that Mitchell was acting in self defense.

According to the evidence Mitchell and Blinn became involved in an argument on December 21, 1922. Blinn picked up a billiard ball and threatened Mitchell. The latter attempted to avoid further trouble, but Blinn followed him and threatened him again. Mitchell struck Blinn with a billiard cue the ball hit Blinn's skull being fractured by the blow.

Mitchell was represented by Attorney Leonard Richardson and Attorney Edgar D. Previto, the latter appearing at the instance of Supervisor Knox, seconded by Supervisor Staats, and Chairman Hamilton. Assistant Supervisors Heyer and Mullins also appeared.
